Medikidz: Explaining Pulmonary Arterial Hypertension

Superhero Adventure Inside the Human Body!

This 32-page full-colour comic book can help people living with PH explain to the children in their life what's happening inside their bodies and why they may be limited in their activities. This is also a great tool for families of children with PH to help little PHighters and their peers understand the disease.

This resource was produced by Medikidz and has been reviewed by Canadian PH specialists and endorsed by PHA Canada. PHA Canada acknowledges and thanks our corporate partner Actelion for sponsoring the production of this resource in Canada.

Synopsis:

What's up with Caleb's Mom?

Caleb enjoys hanging out with his mom, but her medical condition, pulmonary arterial hypertension, makes doing stuff together much harder. The Medikidz come to the rescue and take Caleb on an adventure through Mediland to explain all about his mom's condition.

Caleb's mom is just one of millions of people who are living with medical conditions that they find hard to explain to children. The wide range of Medikidz comic books helps both children and parents understand these conditions in a fun and engaging way. Medikidz comic books are written by doctors and reviewed by leading medical and health-related professionals.
